

INVESTIGATIONS AND WORKSHOPS

Preliminary investigation

This investigation is suitable for those events on which the organizer -to some extent- has taken environmental measures. This investigation consists of:

- an assessment of information on environmental measures on a particular event.
- a proposal to additional environmental measures.
- the consultation on a proposal with all parties concerned.

Basic price of a preliminary investigation:

€ 455 to 910 VAT excluded.

Visit of an event:

This short visit is meant to create a firm basis for environmental care and to get an impression of the situation of the event in question as well. In each town or district this type of visit can be paid on a frequent basis during a succession of events within the period of a year.

The visit consists of:

- an introduction to the organizer.
- a short visit to the event in question, including a photoreport.
- a final report of all visits paid within the period of a year within the town or district concerned.

Basic price of a visit:

€ 227 to 455 VAT excluded.

Quick-scan:

A quick-scan is suitable for those events for which there is no need to introduce an elaborate environmental care system or when an environmental audit has been carried out on a similar event before (which makes a quick-scan superfluous).

The quick-scan contains:

- a limited investigation on bottlenecks and possibilities.
- a photoreport.
- a brief report.

Basic price of a quick-scan:

€ 455 to 682 VAT excluded.

Environmental investigation:

In an environmental investigation each environmental aspect will be elaborately discussed. If desired, public inquiries can be conducted on items like traffic and transport or on experiences with durable plastic glasses, etc.

The investigation consists of:

- an elaborate and in-depth investigation based on a standard questionnaire.
- a photoreport.
- an elaborate report including practical advice.

Basic price of an environmental investigation:

€ 1818 to 4091 VAT excluded.

Environmental audit:

An audit is an absolute prerequisite for the set-up of an environmental care system. In fact, an environmental audit is an extensive environmental investigation, which consists of:

- an internal investigation of the organization in question (procedures, appointments, scenario).
- an investigation during the construction (set-up) and demolition of the event.
- measurement and registration of energy- and water consumption, sound, waste collection and disposal and traffic and transport.
- an elaborate report.

Basic price of the environmental audit:

€ 2273 to 4091 VAT excluded.

Assessment investigation:

This investigation is suitable for assessing new environmental measures at pilot-projects. It consists of:

- an investigation regarding the outcome of a particular environmental measure on environmental pollution.
- one or more inquiries.
- a report.

Basic price of an assessment investigation:

€ 1364 to 4091 VAT excluded.

Workshop:

Workshops are particularly suitable to start or improve an ecological awareness or create a firm basis for environmental care on events. Workshops can be arranged for the officials of a town or district, for the catering industry and for the organizers of events in a particular town.

A workshop consists of:

- a preliminary talk.
- the preparation, brief and well-organized information and instructions included.
- the workshop.

Basic price of a workshop:

€ 682 to 1818 VAT excluded.

Prices include travelling- and office expenses and -if any- photo expenses. Discount is possible if several orders are received simultaneously.

A CLEANER EVENT; A dream coming true

Over 160.000 events are organized in our country every year and millions of people come to pay them a visit. This means that events have become socially as well as economically indispensable.

Little or no attention is paid to environmental care as yet. This is highly regrettable, for, though most events provide the public with entertainment and fun on the one hand, on the other they cause environmental pollution. This is not only due to waste, but to noise-and traffic nuisance, damage to the natural surroundings and a needlessly high water and energy consumption as well.

Who we are

Louis d'Eco is a foundation which has sprung from private enterprise in 1993. We act as an independent environmental consultancy without receiving structural government grants to support the environmental projects we carry out. Besides, we fulfil a pioneering role in the field of environmental care on events.

Foundation Louis d'Eco Development is a separate branch which applies itself to the development of ecologically sound products, which, after thorough research, can be used on events.

What we wish to achieve

It is our objective to make environmental care an integrated and structural part of events. A clean event can, besides being valued more positively by the public, save both organizer and government a lot of money since energy and cleaning costs of waste are no longer necessary.

There is another way!

There is a variety of practical measures that enables environmental care to be integrated into the organization of events. This makes it possible to save money by avoiding unnecessary expenses. For instance, the use of durable (plastic) crockery and glasses can yield a considerable reduction on the cleaning and converting costs of waste.

A survey of our services

How we work

What we offer

Practical advice

Investigations and workshops

Printed on ecologically sound 'algae paper' in ink with a base of vegetable ingredients.

Proper bicycle facilities can prevent this from happening.

Foundation Louis d'Eco

Ondiep Zuidzijde 2-d, 3551 BW Utrecht, The Netherlands

Phone 00-31-(0)30-2343344 • Fax 00-31-(0)30-2400590 • E-mail info@louisdeco.nl

A survey of our services

How we work

At present, attention for environmental care on events is not something that goes without saying. Nevertheless, our experiences have shown that the grounds on which events take place can be as clean as any average living-room! By means of giving information and advice we want to trigger off an awareness and bring about concrete changes. Our aim is to make environmentally conscious behaviour on events -of late much improved both at home and at work- a matter of course. On many events our approach has been applied with positive results. There is a proper solution to any problem that might occur.

What we offer

Based on many years' experience and expert's assessment we offer advice on environmental care on events and we act as intermediary between organizers, the local council, accommodation managers and exploitants of catering industry. Besides, we keep in touch with all parties concerned and we confer in order to come to practical and suitable environmental measures. Those measures are presented in a lucid investigation report which includes clear site pictures to enhance the overall quality of the report.

- Made-to-measure environmental investigation: quick-scan, environmental-audit or assessment investigation.
- Advice to local councils regarding the development of environmental policy and the formulation of an ecological care system, an environmental policy statement, an environmental policy plan or an environmental action plan.
- Coaching of long-term projects, for instance, the introduction of durable plastic glasses on an event or within an entire town.
- Financing alternatives, like grants for environmental care on events.
- Workshops for officials, organizers or others who are involved in the event-business/organization of events.
- Lectures, presentations or guest lectures at colleges.
- Promotion and publicity: set-up of a communication plan, production of durable communication- and promotion material.
- Ecologically sound and/or durable product information.
- Product development by foundation Louis d'Eco Development.

How we work

In deliberation with our client and all parties involved, will be determined which environmental aspects are in need of special attention and then (depending on the outcome) a suitable approach will be determined. Depending on what the client desires, he can choose from either a simple or an elaborate environmental investigation or from a lecture or workshop.

Please, look on the back for a detailed description of our services and the prices.

Subsequently, our experienced and independent advisers visit the event after which a lucid and well -organized investigation-report will be drawn up. In this report the procedure regarding each environmental aspect will be described, each of which is supported by clear site pictures. Practical and directly applicable advice is added as well to make sure that, from an ecological point of view, future events will be properly organized.

Our approach works

We are convinced that with the united forces of all parties involved each event can be organized ecologically sound. On many events it has been amply demonstrated that our approach works. A pleasant event can be a clean event as well and everyone benefits from it!

Practical advice:

- Waste reduction, -separation and -collection.
- Restrictions on noise nuisance. The use of durable glass and crockery.
- Encouragement of the use of public transport.
- Protection of soil and flora.
- Sanitary facilities.
- Energy-saving measures.
- Water-saving provisions.
- Advice to the general public, organizers and other parties involved in the organization of events.
- Licence conditions.

